

Clinical Pharmacology

臨床薬理

Since 2022

What is the role of Clinical Pharmacology?

- Clinical Pharmacology (CP) is a science to study mode of action and dynamics of a drug in order to establish a rational pharmacotherapy in human.
- A principal mission of CP is to play a pivotal part in exploring an optimal dose and dosage for individual patients.

What is the purpose of Clinical Pharmacology Community?

- Increase presence, attraction, and funs of CP
 - ✓ Provide training program for beginners and non-experts
 - ✓ Foster and develop the next generation of CP experts
- Push CP into the mainstream in various organizations and fields
- Promote communication and reinforce cross-collaboration between academia, regulatory agency, industry

Community members are now wanted!

Key opinion leaders and experts from academia, regulatory agency, industry have contributed to the CP community.

Community members can...

- Exchange opinions anytime and discuss issues at every level
- Obtain tips and knowledge from experts
- Propose session topics in DIA Japan and plan a new workshop

We welcome experienced and inexperienced people!